

Report on ACP Lecture Tour of Korea

(13-18 September 2010)

Vinich Promarak

(Faculty of Science, Ubon Ratchathani University, Thailand)

According to the 4th ACP conference at Bangkok, I was given a Lectureship Awards from Korea. First of all, I would like to thank Korea ACP coordinators for their kind giving me the award and Professor Ung Chan Yoon for organizing my lecture tour in Korea. Thanks to the support by Ubon Ratchathani University and NRCT on ACP program that I could visit Korea and have an excellent opportunity to share my work, meet and discuss with professors and postdocs there. I would like also thank all professors for hosting me and for very warm hospitality at their universities. I enjoyed the lecture tour very much in Korea.

September 13 (Mon) : Arriving in Busan in the morning. I was picked up at the airport and took to hotel nearby Pusan National University by Prof. Yoon's student. Prof. Yoon picked up from the hotel in the afternoon and took me sightseeing around Pusan city.

September 14 (Tue) : Visiting Tongdosa temple with Prof. Yoon in the morning. Discussion with many professors in the afternoon followed by lecture at Department of Chemistry, Pusan National University (PNU) hosted by Prof. Ung Chan Yoon.

Tongdosa temple

September 15 (Wed) : Leaving Pusan in the morning by bus for Pohang. Visiting Gyeongju at Daegu with Prof. Kyo Han Ahn. Discussion with many professors in the afternoon followed by lecture at Department of Chemistry, POSTECH hosted by Prof. Kyo Han Ahn.

Visiting Gyeongju with Prof. Ahn

September 16 (Thu) : Traveling to Chociwon in the morning. Discussion with many professors in the afternoon followed by lecture at Department of Chemistry at Korea University hosted by Prof. Sang Ook Kang.

With Prof. Kang's colleges and students after dinner

At front gate of Korea U.

September 17 (Fri) : Traveling to Seoul in the morning. Discussion with many professors in the afternoon followed by lecture at Department of Chemistry at Yonsei University hosted by Prof. Woo-Dong Jang.

September 18 (Sat) : Leaving Seoul for Bangkok